satisfaction to Your Majesties Subjects, and the Readiness Your Majesty has Expressed by Your Message, to Comply with the punctual Execution thereof; will prevent all occasions of Distrust or Jealousies, between Your Majesty and Your People.

It is, Sir, to Your Loyal Commons an Unspeakable Grief, That Your Majesty should be Advised to Propose any thing in Your Message, to which they cannot Consent with Due Regard to that Constitution Your Majesty came over to Restore, and have so often Exposed your Royal Person to Preserve; And did in your Gracious Declaration Promise, That all those Forreign Forces which came over with You, should be sent Back: In Duty therefore to your Majesty, and to Discharge the Trust Reposed in Us; We Crave leave to lay before You That nothing Conduceth more to the Happiness and Welfare of this Kingdom, then an Intire Confidence between your Majesty and your People, which can no way be so firmly Established, as by Intrusting your Sacred Person with your own Subjects, who have so Eminently Signalized themselves on all Occasions, during the late Long, and Expensive War.

His MAJESTY's Most Gracious Answer.

Gentlemen,

I Came Hither to Restore the Ancient Constitution of this Government: I have had all possible Regard to it since my Coming: And I am Resolved through the Course of my Reign to Endeavour to Preserve it Intire in all the Parts of it.

I Have a full Confidence in the Affections of my People, and I am well Assured they have the same in Me: And I will never give them just Cause to alter this Opinion.

As to My Subjects, who Served during the War, I am an Eye Witness of their Bravery, and of their Zeal, for My Person and Government, and I have not been wanting to Express My Sense of this to my Parliaments, as well as upon other Occasions.

I have all the Reason, to Trust and Rely upon them, that a Prince can have, and I am Satisfied there is not one Man among them Capable of intertaining a Thought, that what was Propos'd in My Message, proceeded from any Distrust of them.

It shall be my Study, to the Utmost of my Power, to perform the Part of a Just and Good King, and as I will ever be Strictly and Nicely Careful of Observing my Promisses to my Subjects, so I will not doubt, of their Tender Regards to me.

DUBLIN Re-Printed next Doore to the Fleece in Nicholas-street, 1699.